We used these for stocking stuffers this year, and they were very well received. Our two children love to read about mummies, gods and Pharaohs, and this was perfect for them. For those of you who are not familiar with the Fandex Family Field Guides, these are basically flash cards with cool pictures and facts about various subjects: butterflies, buildings, mummies, etc. These are great for kids who are traveling, for snow days or for rainy days when your children need a little extra something to keep their attention. I also love that the kids are able to talk about what they've read, which makes for a more enriching conversation around the dinner table. :) Shipping was of course fast and easy, and we love the product. Thanks Fandex!

It's just what I was looking for...it gets the information out to you faster and easy to follow. I would highly recommend it for any age.

I bought these for my classroom and our study of ancient civilizations. A very popular item for my students. Always being read.

The item was a holiday gift and when I found out I was not going to get it until after the holiday I contacted the sender and asked if I can have it sent early. No problem got it within the week of my request and could not be happier over all. Looks like new

These are like THE BEST flash cards of mummies, gods, goddesses, the Valley of the Kings and pharaohs! The pictures are absolutely gorgeous! Each "page" is filled with fascinating information about spells, incantations, The Book of the Dead, secrets of embalming and passwords. Do you know the only vital organ to be left in the preserved body? Very interesting! It doesn't get very in-depth because there just isn't room, but this would definitely help a child with a grade school/middle school test. For a grown up on trivia night! I definitely recommend it.
