Helpful and nutritious recipes! This is a fabulous cookbook! Very impressed from cover to cover! Full of invaluable information, great tips, simple, easy to read and understand, delicious recipes and beautiful photos. Who knew that the anti-inflammatory diet could be so doable and yummy! This cookbook is a must!! Everyone should have this cookbook!

Good job of explaining the advantages of these foods in your diet to help with inflammation.

I hope you find this review helpful. - This is a pretty complete, well organized and nicely edited primer on the role inflammation plays in the body and a list of clear, easy to follow guidelines for a diet that works to reduce and preempt the chance of disease.- - The theory behind the role inflammation plays in our body is written in simple terms to understand- - Detailed lists of what to eat (Veggies, Fruits, Organic this and that and more) and what to avoid (Refined Sugars, Margarine, Transfats etc.) make this a very practical guide. Add Exercise too for good measure :-)- - Smartly the book also sets realistic expectations: Do not think of it a fad diet for 2 weeks, or expect miracles in a similar time frame, but rather follow its recommendations as a rewarding way of eating for the rest of your life. Bottom line: Nothing is 100% guarantee but it's our responsibility to at least improve our odds of delaying the onset of ailments if we can, and this book does a very good job to that end. I would also recommend non-profit online sites like 'nutrition facts dot org' and 'WHF dot com'.

I loved this book! Mainly because I had almost everything already in my pantry to make the recipes. I will be making some version of all of the soups and the hummus's, and salads in the cookbook. Even if you are not following an anti-inflammatory diet, I still recommend the recipes because they looks fantastic!

Body wounds healing, better immune systems and the great anti-inflammatory response in the body are all influence by the good feeding the boosts a good defense mechanism in the body. This is all built by utilizing the diet that is full of nourishment and nutrients to boost our body.
