Stuck In The Middle

Synopsis

Allow me to introduce the one and only, Shanice E. Brown. A smart, sassy, and say what's-on-her-mind fifth grader who just started middle school. You know, the period between elementary and high school where parents see their "babies" growing up and where students are trying to find themselves. Making this transition can both be exciting and scary for children who are facing the unknown, and Shanice is no different. She is ready for her first year of middle school - or is she? Her first day sets her up for the unexpected. From that day on, she is pushed and pulled into directions she can't control. Will she survive her first year, or will she be defeated by the challenges, problems, and experiences she encounters. You've got to read and see. Until then, look out world, HERE SHE COMES!!
