Customer Reviews

Operating our body care business, we are always interested in learning new ideas and suggestions. One of the primary reasons I looked into this book is to locate a possible plan to correcting an issue for one of our current products. While there is much useful information for someone who wants to begin the DIY, it was not what I was looking for. Despite this, I have to admit it did have some great information and guidance, which a DIYer would find valuable. This is the primary reason for my rating. Since I recognized I was looking at it as someone who had knowledge and understanding of much of the information included, to rate it, I had to look at it from another angle.

I've known for years that commercial deodorants are bad for your health and have avoided using them as much as possible. However, recently I was prescribed a medication that makes me sweat a lot. And, of course, that leads to more odor. I've been searching for a natural deodorant that I liked, have tried a few, but I wasn't completely happy. Thus, the purchase of this book. I want to have total control of the ingredients. In particular, I want to add the essential oils of my choosing, and vitamins to boost the health of my skin. Overall, I am extremely pleased with this ebook. Not only does it include recipes for deodorants but also body sprays, pet deodorizers (hallelujah! I have a basset hound) and room/air-fresheners. There are recipes for all skin types—acne-prone to dry and/or sensitive. I look forward to working with the recipes and tweaking them to fit my preferences.

This book is awesome for the price! I have made several of the recipes and have found two favorites. My customers also love!

My wife is completely into anything green, and this was one area we have not even considered. I thought I would blow her mind by picking up this book and giving it a try. I have to tell you that not only is it cheaper to make your own deodorant, you can choose the fragrances that appeal to you. We gave it a try and it was a really great experience. The products actually do work, and I can tell you from living in the south I would have known in a minute if it was a fail.

Excellent resource!

This is just what I was looking for. The instructions are clear and simple. I'm always on the lookout for all-natural products, but finding a decent deodorant has been a huge challenge. Now I can stop looking. It may take a little experimenting to get exactly the right formula for me, but she has given all the information needed.

haven't made this yet

Most of the recipes had coconut which I'm allergic too. Also I'm a little confused about the recipes that requires essential oils and water NO carrier oils.... the price was okay
