Customer Reviews

Wicca is something that you really have to have a taste for. This isn't a book that just anyone would pick up. You have be into the wiccan life in order to get anything out of this book. If you are into this lifestyle, this book is very interesting. It talks of the way to create your own book of shadows, as well as many other useful things. One of these things is the different types of herbs and how they are connecting, and what can happen if they are combined. Along with all this other information that is also a section on different spells and rituals that you can look into.

The booklet reads like it is carelessly translated from another language. There are a few statements that are not in keeping with Wiccan beliefs. The few spells are interesting but predominately love spells which are an interference with the free will of another. Most disturbing is this very odd and very untrue statement: "Wiccans believe in the role of Karma in their life. It was mentioned in their books that once a person create 3 good deeds in a row, it may be rewarded with bad deeds in a row. This law is widely known as the 3-Fold Law." Stick with the genuine authors and practitioners.

ok read

all other books say not blow out candles but this one says just the oppesite

Honestly I was expecting a better layout and proper grammar. But it isn't totally not useful

There is a lot of misinformation and statements in this work concerning, being possessed by any deity called to your circle, (the circle is a sphere of protection against negative energy, evil, or anything that would do you harm.) I personally would NOT call this a " Book of Shadows " but a Book with some credibility in some areas. My advice is to acquire and read books on this subject, from different authors, the truth will not change, but the false and untrue, will change with every telling. (who ever edited this work, must have failed English class in High School !) LOL

Honestly it's not. Bad. it's small and basic thing's you might need . and a few spells.

Nice , We love it
